FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

President Passes Torch at Exervio Consulting

TJ Felice, founder and President of Exervio Consulting, announced the sale of his ownership stake to his management team of five years - Mark Heisig, Pepper Pounds, and Jon Nance. "It is with complete confidence that I entrust the legacy of this firm to Jon, Mark and Pepper", Felice said. "This team has a deep understanding of our clients and our people. Their experience in helping to build the firm gives them a unique historic perspective that can be leveraged to pursue the opportunities of today and tomorrow." Felice will remain with Exervio for 90 days in a consultative role during the transition and will then contemplate with advisors, family, and friends to define his next undertaking.

Under Felice's leadership, Exervio has experienced double-digit annual growth from its founding in 2001, has expanded to Atlanta, GA, and has been recognized as a leading provider of management consulting services, including nominations as the Charlotte Chamber's Entrepreneur of the Year in 2004 and 2005.

Jon Nance will assume the role as President of Exervio, ceding his responsibilities as Vice-President of Consulting Services to Mark Heisig, whose role now expands to include responsibility for all Exervio consulting operations in Charlotte.

Felice was advised by Justine Tobin and Paul Solitario of Tobin Advisors LLC on the transaction.
