TOBIN & COMPANY CLOSSES SELL-SIDE M&A TRANSACTION

CHARLOTTE, NC - APRIL 14, 2011 – Airimba Wireless, Inc. – doing business as WindChannel Communications, Inc. – recently announced that it has concluded a merger agreement with AireWire, Inc. to create a combined company providing an expanded and diversified portfolio of network integration, wireless broadband and municipal services. Tobin & Company Securities LLC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Tobin & Company Investment Banking Group LLC and a member of FINRA and the SIPC, advised WindChannel and served as its exclusive financial advisor in this transaction.

"We are excited about this opportunity to take AireWire and Airimba to the next stage," stated AireWire CEO, Walt Henley. "Previously, our companies shared customer similarities in the tier two and tier three markets, but we concentrated on different types of customer needs. By bringing together the WindChannel and AireWire experience and capabilities, we are now better equipped to respond to a broader range of opportunities while strengthening our ability to service many more customers."

WindChannel CEO Jim Szyperski added, "AireWire's expertise in designing and building large wireless backhaul networks directly complements WindChannel's more localized wireless applications for municipalities and retail internet users. The combination creates a comprehensive end-to-end design, construction and operating capability that will provide great value to our collective customers."
